Compatible Brother MFC-240C Ink Cartridges from $2.99 Open the ink access cover, which can be found on the right side of the printer. Release the lock lever by pulling it down, then remove the cartridge out from the printer. Get your new CompAndSave Brother MFC-240C printer ink cartridge, open it over a sink or garbage can to avoid any mess in case it leaks as sometimes, factories tend to overfill the ink cartridges. Make sure to touch the black plastic part only, then remove the covering tape that is usually bright in color as well as the plastic protective case, if there is, before installing it. Insert the new Brother MFC-240C cartridge to its respective slot. Then put the lock lever back into place until you hear it click. Close the ink access cover. Can I use off brand ink in my Brother printer? Absolutely! CompAndSave's generic, compatible, replacement, or remanufactured ink cartridges are designed to meet or exceed the OEM specifications. This means that you can get the same print quality and the number of prints without paying as much compared to the original Brother ink cartridges. Aside from this, using generic ink cartridges will never void the printer's warranty. So you can shop and use our ink cartridges without any worry. For more information about our ink cartridges, click Ink Knowledge Base and you will be redirected to the right page. How can I bypass my Brother ink cartridge not being detected? First, make sure that you installed the correct model of ink cartridge for your printer. To verify this, you may check the printer's manual or check the last cartridge that worked on your printer. In front or on the side should be a label with the model number of the cartridge, which usually consists of alphanumeric characters. For example, the Brother MFC-240C printer uses an ink cartridge that has the model code of LC51. Once you have this verified, the next step is to reseal the ink cartridge to your printer to make sure that it is properly installed. An indication that the cartridge is seated properly is if you hear a click when you insert it. Then, turn off the printer for 15 minutes.
